English for house cleaners

1. Greet her and ask what to clean today

Hello, dear! Come in, come in.	Good morning! What would you like me to clean today?
The kitchen, the bathroom and the living room.	Okay. Where should I start?

- Good morning! I'm the cleaner. Nice to meet you.
- What would you like me to clean today?
- Which rooms do you want cleaned?
- Where should I start?

2. Ask if there is anything you should not touch

Please don't move the papers on my desk.	Of course. I'll clean around them.
Is there anything else I should tell you?	No, that's all. Thank you.

- Is there anything I shouldn't touch?
- Should I move the papers on your desk?
- I won't move anything. I'll clean around it.

3. Ask where the supplies are and say what is missing

The supplies are under the sink.	Thank you. Where do you keep the vacuum?
Oh dear, I ran out of bathroom cleaner.	Is it okay to use dish soap?

- Where are the cleaning supplies?
- Where do you keep the vacuum?
- I can't find the bathroom cleaner. Do you have more?
- Is it okay to use dish soap instead?
- Excuse me, is this broken? Should I throw it away?

4. Say the windows take one more hour and ask if that is okay

Could you do the windows too?	Yes. It takes one more hour. Is that okay?
That's fine. I'll pay for the extra hour.	Thank you. I'll start with the windows.

- How long should I stay today?
- Do you want me to do the windows, too?
- The windows take one more hour. Is that okay?
- The price is for three hours. The extra hour costs more.

5. Say you are done and when you come back

Oh, it looks wonderful!	Thank you. I'm done for today.
When can you come again?	I can come next Tuesday.

- I'm done. Would you like to check?
- Everything is clean.
- I'll come back next Tuesday. Is the same time okay?
- Have a nice day!