Warehouse interview questions and answers

1. Say if you have warehouse experience

Do you have any warehouse experience?	Not in a warehouse. But I worked in a restaurant kitchen for a year, so I'm used to working fast on my feet.
Why do you want to work in a warehouse?	I like active work, and I like to see a job finished. I'm strong, and I like being on a team.
Can you lift heavy boxes and stand for hours?	Yes. I'm used to it, and I know to bend my knees. If a box is too heavy, I ask for help.

2. Say which shifts you can work

Which shifts can you work?	I can work any shift, days or nights. Mornings are the easiest for me.
Can you do overtime?	Yes, I can, on weekends too. If I know a day early, I can plan around it.
When can you start?	I can start next Monday. If you need me sooner, I can talk about it.

3. Tell him about a mistake you made and fixed

Tell me about a time you made a mistake at work. What did you do?	Once I sent an order to the wrong table. I told my manager right away and took it back. Now I check the ticket twice.
What do you do if you see something unsafe, like a box in the aisle?	I move it if it's small, or I tell my supervisor. I don't walk past it.
Which is more important, speed or accuracy?	Accuracy first, because a wrong order costs more time. Then speed comes with practice.

4. Say an order back after he reads it once

I'll read you an order once. What do you do if you miss part of it?	I ask, sorry, which aisle? Then I say it back so we both know it's right.
Say it back: twelve boxes of blue gloves, aisle C, shelf four.	Twelve boxes of blue gloves, aisle C, shelf four.
